SkinCeuticals, the #1 medical professional skincare brand in the US, announces the opening of SkinCeuticals SkinLab™ by Tribeca Medspa, located in New York, NY. This new location, on the Upper East Side of Manhattan, is the latest addition to the network, joining existing locations in St. Helena, CA, Stamford, CT, Houston, TX, Palm Desert, CA, Grand Rapids, MI, Charleston, SC, Miami, FL and Scottsdale, AZ.

SkinCeuticals SkinLab™ by Tribeca Medspa is empowered by the tagline, "Great Skin, Made Easy." The space is an integrated skincare destination offering doctor-validated services and clinically tested skincare with the ease and convenience that meets the demands of the on-the-go consumer who values medical expertise. Tribeca Medspa's board-certified dermatologist, Dr. Michele Anzilotti, and board-certified plastic surgeon, Dr. Gerald Ginsberg, bring expert oversight to the partnership, along with their team of doctors, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, registered nurses, and medical aestheticians. With New York City serving as the largest market for SkinCeuticals products in the nation, both the brand and partner seized the opportunity to launch on the Upper East Side early this year.

Of the partnership, Tribeca Medspa Co-Owner, Bill Tobin, says "Since 2006, we have been at the forefront of medical advances in anti-aging technology. SkinCeuticals innovates best-in-class skincare and is the perfect partner for this reason." Additionally, the space will offer the first ever exclusive SkinVIP Membership Program, where members can choose one signature treatment per month and unlock exclusive deals on SkinCeuticals and Dermablend products, as well as aesthetic treatments.

Amy Sloan, Head of SkinCeuticals says, "We are proud to announce the launch of SkinCeuticals SkinLab™ by Tribeca Medspa, making this the first time that SkinCeuticals will be accessible in this format to the New York City consumer. This city is the fastest growing market for SkinCeuticals in the US, with close to 40,000 customers per month looking for SkinCeuticals products and services. Opening a location here was an obvious choice." She continues, "With a 13-year relationship, Tribeca Medspa, is a trusted partner and one of our top flagships in the nation. Together, we'll deliver the most well-rounded regimens and treatments via our gold standard integrated skincare experience."
